The group opened the meeting with prayer.

Minutes: December minutes were approved with minor modifications. Minutes will be posted on the FRCS website under documents – Priscilla to send to Scott post approval.

Note: Given the imminent nature of the ACSI Accreditation schedule, the SISC devoted the entire meeting to reviewing 3 sections of the self study.

1. ACSI Accreditation:

The various teams are progressing the accreditation process.

a. Dan Sarian presented what he and his team had developed for Standard 9 – Character, Values and Spiritual Development. Dan read through the self-study summary and rubric. The SISC team suggested minor edits/editions.

- Julie and Dan will work together to determine what supporting materials should be sent ahead and which materials should be available on site.
- Per Julie, she has been advised by Jerry B. to err on the side of going lean, if the self study is well written, there is not a need for volumes of supporting material.
- Priscilla proposed that once the self studies are completed, they be issued monthly to our community as part of My Heart to Your Home, or Compass news letter. They are succinct and capture the heart of the various aspects of FRCS. In addition, they could be incorporated into some sort of a hand out for Scott to provide prospective parents.

b. Rod Ross presented what he and his team had developed for Standard #8 Facilities, Environment and Transportation. Rod read through the self-study summary and rubric. The SISC team suggested minor edits/editions and there was some discussion concerning the rubric rankings.

c. Denie Dalton presented what she and her team had developed for Standard #3 - School and Community Relations and Student Services. Denie read through the self-study summary and rubric. The SISC team suggested minor edits/editions.
